

BRANCH OR MEMBERSHIP REQUEST FOR ASSISTANCE

Of primary importance on this form is the Brief Statement of Assistance Required. This will form the initial starting point for the Command Branch Advisory Committee, and therefore should receive careful consideration in its preparation (if additional paper is required it should be included with this statement).

Note that there are two methods of request:

- 1 From the Executive or General body as a result of their meeting (minutes of the meeting must be include however the signatures of six members is not required)
- 2 Six concerned members who place their names and signatures in the boxes provided.

The process will then proceed as documented in the terms of reference for the Branch Advisory Committee in this manual.
